Childhood Immunizations

Did you know that when you get vaccinated, you're protecting yourself and your community? How does community immunity work? Germs can travel quickly through a community and make a lot of people sick. If enough people get sick, it can lead to an outbreak. But when enough people are vaccinated against a certain disease, the germs can't travel as easily from person to person — and the entire community is less likely to get the disease. Community immunity (also known as herd immunity) protects everyone. And it's an important reason for you and your family to get vaccinated — so you can help keep yourselves and your community healthy.

What's up with immunizations? On-time vaccinations throughout childhood are essential because they help provide immunity before children are exposed to potentially life-threatening diseases. Over the years, vaccines have prevented countless cases of disease and saved millions of lives. Infants, children, adolescents, teens and adults need different vaccinations, depending on their age, location, job, lifestyle, travel schedule, health conditions or previous vaccinations. Because of vaccines, some diseases (like polio and diphtheria) are rare in the U.S. Immunity is the body's way of preventing disease.

Statistically, the chances of your child getting diseases such as measles, pertussis, or another vaccine-preventable disease might be low. HOWEVER, you don't want them to be without the protection that vaccines provide. Think of it this way: You always make sure to buckle your child in his/her car seat even though you don't expect to be in an accident.

What about side effects? Any vaccine can cause side effects. For the most part, these are minor (for example, a sore arm or low-grade fever) and go away within a few days. A decision not to immunize a child also involves risk and could put the child and others who come into contact with him or her at risk of contracting a potentially deadly disease.

What about the flu vaccine? An annual flu vaccine is the best way to reduce your chances of getting the seasonal flu and spreading it to others. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends that everyone 6 months of age and older receive an annual flu vaccine. For more than 50 years, hundreds of millions of Americans have safely received seasonal flu vaccines.

CYS requires your child to have up-to-date vaccinations in order to register for programs.

Contact your local public health agency or health care provider if you have concerns.

Halloween

Trick-or-Treating Tips

S

Swords, knives, and other costume accessories should be short, soft, and flexible.

A

Avoid trick-or-treating alone. Walk in groups or with a trusted adult.

F

Fasten reflective tape to costumes and bags to help drivers see you.

E

Examine all treats for choking hazards and tampering before eating them. Limit the amount of treats you eat.

H

Hold a flashlight while trick-or-treating to help you see and others see you. WALK and don't run from house to house.

A

Always test make-up in a small area first. Remove it before bedtime to prevent possible skin and eye irritation.

L

Look both ways before crossing the street. Use crosswalks wherever possible.

L

Lower your risk for serious eye injury by not wearing decorative contact lenses.
☐

O

Only walk on sidewalks whenever possible, or on the far edge of the road facing traffic to stay safe.

W

Wear well-fitting masks, costumes, and shoes to avoid blocked vision, trips, and falls.

E

Eat only factory-wrapped treats. Avoid eating homemade treats made by strangers.

E

Enter homes only if you're with a trusted adult. Only visit well-lit houses. Never accept rides from strangers.

N

Never walk near lit candles or luminaries. Be sure to wear flame-resistant costumes.

Family Child Care

Are you familiar with what Family Child Care (FCC) is all about?

FCC is NOT babysitting within your home. FCC offers personal, individualized care within your home environment. FCC providers are fully vetted through the Army, passing thorough background checks and required training. FCC providers are held to the highest standard of care and regulations to ensure the best care possible for our children. FCC is currently recruiting qualified family members residing in Ord Military Community or La Mesa Housing. This is an excellent opportunity for you to work from home, earn extra income, and provide a much needed child care option for our military families. FCC also transfers from installation to installation, affording consistent employment throughout the multiple moves that may occur during a military career.

Family Child Care (FCC) welcomes its newest FCC Providers, Amanda and Amy.

Amanda has opened her Army Certified home within the Ord Military Community and is currently offering a Part-Day Pre-School program for children ages 3-5. She is open M-F from 0800-1100. Amanda offers a play-based educational program that prepares children for Transitional Kinder and Kindergarten.

Amy is offering a Full Day program M-F from 0700-1600. She take children ranging from 6-weeks to 5 years old. Amy offers a program where children learn and develop through purposeful, play-based activities and where they are afforded personalized care within a home environment.

Within the FCC home, your child will experience personalized care filled with developmentally appropriate activities and educational opportunities. Family Child Care providers can take up to 6 children, so space is limited. If you would like more information on these homes or other Family Child Care homes available within the Ord Military Community, Parent Central Services will be happy to provide you the providers information so that you can set up an interview and meet the providers and tour their homes. Please call 831-242-7765 for more information.

Our club is dedicated in the loving memory of

Professor John Chow-Hoon

March 5, 1927 - July 23, 1988

"You are richer today than you were yesterday if you have laughed often, given something, forgiven even more, made a new friend, made stepping stones out of stumbling blocks, if you have thought more in terms of "thysself" than "myself", or if you have managed to be cheerful even though you were weary." -John Chow-Hoon

Our goal is to pass on the knowledge of our founder to the students by teaching self defense, respect, and discipline while having fun.
